Tunisia May Cut Dulles Vacation

May Return To Lead U.S. Drive To Settle French Bomb Dispute

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles disclosed today he might cut short his seaside vacation and return Monday to take personal command of an American drive to settle the Tunisia-French bombing dispute.

Tunisia Clamps Blockade On French Bases

TUNIS, Feb. 14 (AP)—Tunisia clamped a police blockade on three French consulates today but otherwise applied calming measures to prevent a dangerous explosion.

A government spokesman disclosed that food supplies were being allowed to get through to the 13,000 French soldiers barricaded in their bases. This seemed to ease the greatest immediate danger of clashes.

Capitalizing on world reaction to a French air raid last Saturday on the border village of Sakiet Sidi Youssef, President Habib Bourguiba has demanded France withdraw all its troops and give up the big naval base at Bizerte. Tunisians claim 79 men, women and children were killed and many more wounded in Sakiet.

Bourguiba reinforced diplomatic pressure by stationing police guards before three French consulates at Gafsa, Medjez and Le Kef, thus putting the consular officials under the same restrictions as the French military.

He had asked the French to close the consulates at the same time he ordered the French troops confined to posts and barred French flights over Tunisian territory. But the French refused to close the consulates on the ground that the accord for their presence in Tunisia has not been formally ended.

While Bourguiba urged his people today to keep calm, French Premier Felix Gaillard, still suffering from flu and running a fever, summoned U.S. Ambassador Amory Houghton to his home in Paris for a talk on the situation. Paris dispatches said they may have discussed a U.S. mediation effort.

U.S. Asks Free Korea Elections

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today challenged the Communists to accept guaranteed free elections as a step toward fair and reasonable unification of Korea.

State Department spokesman Lincoln White was asked at a news conference about a proposal by Red China and North Korea that elections under neutral supervision be held following withdrawal of all foreign troops.

White said he had no word on any specific U.S. response to this proposal.

But in general, he said, the United States would accept a fair and reasonable basis for unification.

He said free elections are the key to the problem of Korean unification.

"If the Communist side is prepared to accept such supervision of elections in Korea as would guarantee their freedom, then perhaps progress can be made," he said.

Daughter Is Born To Woman Under Hypnosis

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Feb. 14 (AP)—A six-pound daughter, delivered by Caesarean section Monday while the mother, Noreen Malutich, was under hypnosis—just awake—was the mother's most cherished Valentine today.

Nuclear Weapon Crash Could Be Dangerous

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—A government statement today conceded that an accidental crash involving a nuclear weapon could cause a poisonous dust cloud. But it said the dust would be harmless unless inhaled.

In a joint announcement apparently designed to quiet concern, the Defense Department and the Atomic Energy Commission said that planes, trains and trucks have been testing nuclear weapons around for 12 years, that there have been few accidents and that none has caused a nuclear explosion.

How many accidents have occurred, and where, the two agencies declined to say, despite published reports that there have been several in recent years.

The Pentagon-AEC statement defined a nuclear explosion as one involving "fission or fusion reaction creating a large explosive effect." No such reaction has occurred in any of the accidents, it was stressed.

But, said the agencies, some nuclear weapons contain some ordinary chemical explosives like TNT—apparently for purposes of pushing fission sections together swiftly to create the "critical mass" required for explosion or to contribute to pressure-produced heat required for fusion.

A plane crash or severe train wreck could touch off this conventional explosive. The statement said that this kind of an accident has occurred on a few occasions without causing appreciable damage or any injury to persons because of the presence of nuclear material.

"An accidental detonation of conventional explosives might possibly cause local scattering of nuclear materials in the form of dust," the statement said. "This would not be a fallout of fissioned materials, but unfissioned nuclear material could be spread locally, by wind or explosion."

This dust could be hazardous only if taken internally, as by breathing, the statement said.

Helen Twelvrees Took Own Life

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 14 (AP)—The Dauphin County coroner said today that onetime movie star Helen Twelvrees died from an overdose of sleeping pills. He called it suicide.

Dr. Thomas J. Fritchey said the 49-year-old retired actress and wife of an Air Force officer had taken a barbiturate. Earlier in the day he said he thought death was caused by an overdose of narcotics, taken perhaps to get relief from a kidney ailment.

Canadian Army Exercise Ends

WAINWRIGHT, Alta., Feb. 14 (AP)—The Canadian army's Western Command concluded a real winter training exercise for rookies today with a mock battle on the prairie 120 miles southeast of Edmonton.

The maneuvers took on the tone of arctic indoctrination. Ground troops tangled with paratroops in 33 below zero weather.

Children Not Always Loved Worker States

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—Not all parents love their children, says Leontine Young, an Ohio social worker. And she suggests that officials stop opposing parents who want to surrender their children for adoption.

She told a regional conference of the Child Welfare League of America that most social workers and judges handling adoptions cling to the belief that all mothers love their children.

She described that belief as "phony." If social workers realized it, she said, more children could be placed earlier in good adoptive homes instead of being forced to live with adults who don't want them.

Too many social workers, she said, believe that "all parents love their children; and if they don't they ought to; and if they don't we are going to see to it that they do."

She said no one can teach a parent to love.

Mystery Illness Strikes Family

CHICAGO, Feb. 14 (AP)—Three members of a family were stricken, two fatally, today in their suburban home while an 8-year-old boy played uncomprehending the mysterious tragedy.

The dead were Harold W. Dixon, 32, a parcel service truck driver, and his 6-year-old son, Dale.

Dixon's wife, Jean, 32, was taken unconscious to a hospital where her condition was pronounced critical.

The three, clad in pajamas, were found in bed by a fellow employee of Dixon, who was sent to the home to ascertain why Dixon failed to report for work.

Sgt. William Barraball of sheriff's police, said that the 8-year-old boy, Dennis, admitted the parcel service man and explained that his parents and brother were asleep and he had been unable to awaken them.

Dennis was examined by doctors who said he appeared well. A parakeet in its cage in the living room showed no signs of illness. Barraball said it was not determined whether the others were stricken by gas of poisoning. He said there appeared to be no signs of distress in the victims.

Order Coal Mine To Be Reinforced

MAN, W. Va., Feb. 14 (AP)—The coal mine at nearby Lundale which claimed the lives of five miners Wednesday will be reinforced, state and federal officials and company representatives agreed at the end of their investigation today.

State Mines Chief Crawford Wilson said that all wide areas in the Amherst Coal Co. mine will be retimbered and other timbers will be added to the sections supported by only roof bolts.

Five of the 214 miners employed at the Amherst operation were crushed to death when a great mass of slate broke through supports and fell upon them while they were at work. Two others escaped with injuries.

Mack To Get Chance To Tell Story

Accused FCC Head Will Be Called By Probers Wednesday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—Federal Communications Commissioner Richard A. Mack, accused of accepting money in a TV case, will get a chance to tell his side of the story to House investigators next week.

Chairman Harris (D-Ark) of the House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight said Mack will be heard on Wednesday or Thursday.

First, Harris said, the investigators intend to question four Florida friends and acquaintances of Mack about the alleged payoff. They have been asked to appear on Tuesday.

Mack issued a statement today asserting the charges made against him by Bernard Schwartz, ousted chief counsel of the subcommittee, are "reckless" and "without foundation." Schwartz testified at an open hearing yesterday. Mack demanded an early opportunity to answer him.

The four asked to appear Tuesday are Judge Robert Anderson, Paul Scott, Thurman A. White and Ferrine Palmer.

Named By Schwartz

Whiteside was named by Schwartz as the Miami lawyer who allegedly turned over several thousand dollars to Mack before the FCC awarded a television license for Channel 10 in Miami to a National Airlines subsidiary.

Palmer was mentioned in Schwartz' testimony as a close friend of Mack. Schwartz said Anderson was formerly a member of a law firm which represented Public Service Television, winner of the TV case, and Scott was a member of the same firm and a director of the TV company.

When Mack appears, Harris said, he will be asked to bring financial files with him.

Harris said Schwartz will return for more testimony Monday and will be asked about any FCC commissioners who were included in a Jan. 4 confidential staff memorandum.

Documents Missing

Harris said also the questioning would include some inquiries about certain information, files of which the committee has not yet located. Harris added two documents were missing. Asked if the missing papers were two White House letters, Harris said "could be."

Harris said the committee was going to let Schwartz tell all he knew.

He also reported that the committee had approved unanimously the idea that it give "wholehearted cooperation" to the FBI in its investigation of the Mack case.

Harris said he was asked last night to permit the FBI to see the files of the committee and he did so last night. He said the FBI took certain documents with them but returned the documents this morning.

Asked if the committee was going to ask Sherman Adams, chief assistant to the President, to appear, Harris said if Adams wants to come, "he certainly will be given the privilege." Mack is an Eisenhower appointee.

Plan Public Hearings

On another matter, Harris said the committee had spent $79,000 of the $250,000 appropriated for its work.

At this point, Rep. Flynn (D-Ga.) said the committee would develop "even more information of interest and value to the American people" with the remaining funds than had been developed so far.

Harris said he intended to have public hearings next week.

UN To Debate Tunisia Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Feb. 14 (AP)—The U.N. Security Council was summoned today to meet Tuesday for debate on Tunisia's complaint of French aggression in an attack on a village last Saturday.

France filed a counterclaim that Tunisia was aiding Algerian rebels by allowing them to use Tunisian territory in their war against the French in neighboring Algeria.

Diplomatic sources said Tunisia would seek Council condemnation of the French air attack on Sakiet Sidi Youssef village near the Algerian frontier. Some expressed doubt that Tunisia could get the seven votes necessary to approve such a resolution in the 11-nation Council.

U.S. Endorses Iraq-Jordan Unification

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—The United States today cautiously endorsed the unification of Jordan and Iraq, declaring in general terms that it welcomes "any moves toward closer association between Arab peoples."

Experts in the State Department and also some non-Arab diplomats in Washington privately said they thought the union could be a favorable event in the turbulent Middle East.

Department spokesman Lincoln White told a news conference: "We believe that closer relationship in the Arab world is a matter for the Arabs themselves to decide and we welcome any moves toward closer association between Arab peoples which take place with due regard to the desires of the peoples directly concerned and the welfare and stability of the area as a whole."

Asked whether this statement means that the United States also "welcomes" the recent merger between Egypt and Syria, White refused to elaborate. He repeated what Secretary Dulles said on this subject at his last news conference Feb. 11. Dulles said, "We sympathize very much with that desire for increased Arab unity."

The department had no definite information on Iraq's decision concerning its membership in the Baghdad Pact. Reports from Amman, Jordan, said Iraq agreed to "reconsider" its membership in the pact, of which it is the only Arab member. But department officials said pact members are committed to stay in the anti-Communist alliance until 1960 and give six months notice of intention to withdraw.

They Weren't Soft Touches After All

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Feb. 14 (AP)—The two men looked like good possibilities when William A. White, a 57-year-old transient, tried to touch them for a hand-out.

The men, both in civilian clothes, were Police Chief James V. Hicks and Sheriff Don Cox. White today started a 30-day sentence for beginning.

Four Miners Are Trapped By Twin Snow Avalanche

OURAY, Colo., Feb. 14 (INS)—Four miners were buried under a double avalanche of snow today at the Camp Bird mine, five miles south of Ouray, and were believed dead.

Ouray County sheriff Bud Scott said one miner, 40-year-old Ted Mason, was trapped in a small slide. Three other miners were buried as they attempted to dig Mason out of the slide when a second avalanche of snow fell.

Scott identified the trapped rescuers as 40-year-old Walter Smith, 27-year-old Danny Jerrell, and 40-year-old Mike Muransky. All were believed to be from Ouray.

The mishap was the second twin slide today in the mining community in southwestern Colorado.

A crew of 50 miners was rescued earlier today after being trapped for nearly three hours in the Iadarado lead-zinc mine, two miles east of Telluride, by a twin-avalanche that blocked the mine entrance.

Federation Step Toward Arab Unity

Union Has Future Of Baghdad Pact Left In Doubt

AMMAN, Jordan, Feb. 14 (AP)—Kings Faisal of Iraq and Hussein of Jordan linked their governments today in a federal union. Their spokesman hailed this swift response to the recently proclaimed Egyptian-Syrian union as a step toward total Arab unity, but the immediate effect was to spotlight the rivalry between two Arab camps.

The merger—the spokesman called it an "Arab federation"—left the future of Iraq's participation in the American-supported Baghdad Pact in doubt. It is the only Arab nation in the alliance, a target of violent attack by Arab nationalists ever since it was formed in 1955.

A hint of challenge to the Egyptian-Syrian United Arab Republic proclaimed two weeks ago was implicit in the statements of Iraqi and Jordanian leaders who shaped the new merger. They called the federation superior to the Egyptian-Syrian union and claimed their method was the more normal way for two sovereign states to unite.

Joins Kingdoms

The Baghdad-Amman federation joins the two Hashemite kingdoms' armies, foreign policies, and economic and financial affairs, but each of the 22-year-old second cousins retains his throne and each state retains its separate government and its sovereignty. In this the federation differed from the Egyptian-Syrian union, in which President Nasser of Egypt will rule both countries from Cairo.

In the light of the Egypt-Syria marriage, the new federal union had tremendous meaning for all the Arab East. It left the way open for Iraq to stay in the Baghdad Pact, but was likely to generate pressures militating against that. Iraq was one of the reasons for the pact's existence. It was designed as northern tier protection against aggressive communism in the Middle East.

The agreement—signed at dawn on a Moslem Sabbath—provided that treaties and international agreements which previously have been concluded by the two countries before federation will remain valid for the state which concluded them, but not binding on the other state. This would cover the Baghdad Pact.

Links Foreign Policies

The federation, however, links the foreign policies of the two states. Hussein nearly lost his throne in late 1955 in the uproar over a British attempt to push Jordan into the pact. He likely would be uncomfortable about the new implicit link to the pact. His Palestinian subjects, outnumbering 2-1 the original Trans-Jordan Bedouins, riotously oppose the alliance.

For Jordan there were some palpable advantages. For Iraq, the poverty-stricken sister state could prove more a liability than an asset.

The merger of the two armies brings Iraq's 60,000-strong, British-equipped army together with Jordan's 24,000-man Arab Legion. The Arab Legion, created and trained by the British under John Bagot Glubb Pasha—ousted by Hussein after the Baghdad Pact fracas of 1955—is considered the best single fighting force in the Arab East.

This development will strengthen Jordan's defenses along its 400-mile frontier with Israel, and is likely to cause considerable worry inside Israel.

Armed Jail Fugitives Hold Family Hostage

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14 (P)—Two heavily armed young jail fugitives held a family of four hostage at gunpoint in their home for 23 hours then fled today in a stolen car leaving the family bound and gagged.

Police said the two, Bartholomew J. Blackburn, 22, and Ronnie D. Rhonemus, 21, who escaped Tuesday from jail in San Luis Obispo, 163 miles north of Los Angeles, also bound and gagged another couple from whom the car was stolen.

They were believed headed for the Mexican border. Police broadcast an alarm that they are considered dangerous.

Mrs. Lola Garrett, 48, whose home the gunmen took over yesterday morning, said of them: "They were gentlemanly. They seemed like very nice boys."

Police and the Garrett family told this story:

Yesterday morning, Mrs. Garrett's son, Thomas, 23, went to the telephone company office in adjoining Hermosa Beach to pick up his brother, Ray, 22, who works there.

In the parking lot, Blackburn and Rhonemus forced Thomas and Ray to drive them to the Garrett home in the South Bay area.

Mrs. Garrett and her daughter, Mary, 16, were asleep. Mrs. Garrett said later: "I heard the boys but thought they had brought some friends home with them. In about an hour I got up and went into the living room.

"I noticed the gun and decided there wasn't much I could do."

Mrs. Garrett said she and her family spent the day watching television, playing cards and reading the newspaper. She said the two gunmen talked to her about their mothers and said they wouldn't cause any trouble if people would leave them alone.

The men later tied the Garretts hand and foot, planning to leave in the Garrett car, she said.

As they were leaving they saw David Carroll, 40, South Gate, drive up in a flashy white sports car with Lilly Ann Kiley, 27, who lives in the same apartment building as the Garretts.

Blackburn and Rhonemus held up the couple, leaving them bound and gagged in Miss Kiley's apartment. The pair then fled in Carroll's car.

Meade Has Bomb Scares

FORT MEADE, Md., Feb. 14 (P)—This sprawling Army installation had two bomb scares today.

Once this morning and again this afternoon a male voice called the Military Police desk sergeant and said a bomb would explode at the post's ordnance section.

A spokesman said the first call came at 7:55 a.m., saying the bomb would explode five minutes later. Some 25 to 30 persons were evacuated from the three big buildings, mostly maintenance shops.

MPs and specialists of the 549th Explosive Ordnance Detachment searched the buildings and equipment. Traffic was re-routed. The post hospital sent a team of medics. The area was declared secure at 9:10 a.m.

On the second call, at 12:40 p.m., the voice said the bomb didn't explode this morning but would this afternoon. The post went through the whole procedure again, taking only an hour this time.

"We were extremely fortunate," the spokesman said, "because we had people here qualified to handle a situation of this kind."

U.S. Assails Russia For Spreading "Lies"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (P)—The State Department denounced Russia today for spreading "lies" to the effect that the United States masterminded the French air attack Saturday against a Tunisian border village.

A department spokesman said such "outrageous allegations" throw grave doubt on Russia's widely proclaimed desire to ease tensions with the West.

Press officer Lincoln White, abandoning diplomatic language, made the accusation.

Meanwhile, American diplomats worked intensively back stage seeking to patch up the bitter French-Tunisian dispute that has erupted over the bombing.

The State Department appeared, however, to back away from yesterday's apparent public offer to mediate as friends to both sides.

Ford, Chrysler To Close Plants

DETROIT, Feb. 14 (P)—Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. announced today they will close down a plant each next week, idling a total of 6,000 hourly rated workers.

Ford said it would close its Ford assembly line in suburban Dearborn, laying off 4,000 until Feb. 24. A company spokesman said the week's closing is because of a surplus of automobiles in dealers' hands.

Chrysler said it would close its automatic transmission plant at Kokomo, Ind., laying off 2,000 for a week.

Photographer To Be Tried In Girl's Death

CHICAGO, Feb. 14 (P)—William Stacey, 24, a baby portrait photographer, was ordered today to stand trial March 17 on a charge of murdering a client, Mrs. Darlyne Todd.

The 16-year-old housewife was beaten and stabbed to death in her Northwest Side apartment Nov. 22. Her baby, Karyn Lynn, played beside the body, and Stacey's business card was on a table.

Seized, Stacy was quoted by police as saying he killed the mother after taking pictures of the child because Mrs. Todd's scanty attire excited conflicting passions in him.

The trial date was fixed in Criminal Court by Judge Joseph A. Pope.

Two Men Held For $35,289 Bank Holdup

BALTIMORE, Feb. 14 (P)—The FBI late today announced it had arrested a second man and will charge him with aiding in a $35,289 bank robbery last Wednesday.

The FBI identified him as Robert K. Pippin, 25-year-old draftsman of Baltimore and said he would be charged with aiding and abetting in the holdup.

Earlier today, a strapping young Army fugitive who said he worked as a perfume salesman was held in $100,000 bail on a charge of bank robbery.

Martin Joseph McNicholas, alias Mario Perna, was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Ernest Volkart. He was held in bail when he waived preliminary hearing.

A dozen FBI agents ringed the rooming house where McNicholas had been living and nabbed him after he got out of a taxi at 2:45 a. m. At first he had attempted to break away but agents quickly grabbed him.

The tall, well built, 22-year-old McNicholas was handcuffed and led inside, where agents found $14,880 of the loot in a steamer trunk in the basement. The tight-lipped captive refused to divulge where the rest of the money, about $20,000, was hidden.

Agents also found in a bureau drawer of McNicholas' bedroom a loaded snub-nosed .38 caliber revolver matching the description of one used in Wednesday's robbery at the Sparrows Point branch of the Provident Savings Bank.

It was believed the agents worked mainly on two clues—tips from neighbors about the young man, newly moved into the neighborhood, and fingerprints.

The raid climaxed an intensive investigation led by James J. Kelly, special agent in charge of the FBI office here.

Kelly described McNicholas—or Mario Perna, as he called himself here—as an escapee from a U. S. Navy disciplinary barracks at Portsmouth, N. H.

Kelly said he originally came from Yonkers, N. Y., and that his parents still live there. After graduating from a Yonkers high school in June 1963, he joined the Army in December of that year.

Sentenced to a term of four years and two months for being absent without leave, McNicholas was sent to an Army disciplinary barracks at New Cumberland, Pa. Later he was transferred to Portsmouth, where he escaped in September 1965.

Using the Perna alias here, he had worked at various times with a can company, as an ironworker, and said for the past two months he was employed as a door-to-door perfume salesman.

It was believed the FBI put the finger on McNicholas after finding fingerprints on the stolen getaway car.

Holding four bank employees and five customers at bay in the Sparrows Point branch bank, the lone gunman made off with a sack of money. Police found the car he used parked only three blocks away, and theorized the bandit had transferred to another vehicle.

In spite of a tight roadblock, the gunman slipped away from police.

After his arrest, McNicholas told agents he was riding in a cab because his own car had a flat tire on U. S. 40, some 23 miles outside the city. McNicholas said he had no spare.

She Is Hale And Hearty

Arctic Air Portends More Frigid Weather

(By The Associated Press)

Another shipment of arctic air began arriving in the United States Friday and dashed hopes for a quick end to the cold spell.

The cold air seeped in from Canada in the wake of a frigid wave that dipped deep into the South.

It meant continued freezing weather for a vast area stretching from the Northern Plains to the Atlantic.

However, storms in the Texas plains and western Gulf region allowed slightly warmer air to enter the picture in the south-central portion of the nation.

The mixing of cold and warm air produced rains from Texas across the Lower Mississippi Valley.

In areas farther north, the moisture produced snow from the Great Plains eastward into the Ohio Valley.

Much of New England continued to shiver as northerly winds maintained better cold weather.

There was some respite in the Southeast. Temperatures rose slowly in stricken Florida as a bright sun came forth. Temperatures rose to the 60-degree mark in southern Florida but much of the cold-smitten citrus area still had temperatures in the low 30s and 20s.

Along the Pacific Coast, rain prevailed from northern California into the Pacific Northwest and inland regions had snow in the plateau and northern Rockies.

The fresh movement of arctic air is expected to put a new freeze on already low-temperature areas. Weather Bureau forecasters expected lows of 20 degrees below zero in North Dakota and Minnesota and -15 in portions of New England Friday night.

The relatively mild, weather in southern Florida also is expected to vanish late Saturday.

Influenza Deaths Decline Last Week

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (P)—Deaths from influenza and pneumonia in 108 cities dropped to 709 last week. It was the first decline in the weekly total since the last week in December.

Reporting this today, the U.S. Public Health Service also said deaths from all causes in 114 cities numbered 12,415 for the Feb. 8 week, compared with 12,858 in the preceding week.

The service said reports of additional localized outbreaks of influenza continue to come in from military installations.

Drunken Orgies Related During Espionage Trial

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (P)—A story of drunken orgies in Moscow, at which he said he was plied with vodka, women and rubles, was recounted today at the espionage court-martial trial of M. Sgt. Roy A. Rhodes.

Rhodes, who is 40 and married, told the story in a series of three statements which FBI agents testified he made under questioning last July.

The statements were read after counsel for Rhodes sought vainly to have them barred. The sergeant sat solemn-faced, with working jaws, while they were read. His wife waited in an ante-room, as she has done since the trial opened Tuesday.

The statements, described by the prosecution as a confession, dealt mainly with the period when Rhodes was chief mechanic at the U.S. Embassy garage in Moscow from 1951 to 1953.

Rhodes is pictured as falling in with a group of Russians after a "big party" at which he was paired off with a Russian girl.

"The next thing I recall," the statement quotes him as saying, "was waking up in bed with her in her apartment the next morning."

This was followed by other meetings during which Rhodes said he was informed by Russians that the girl was pregnant and his passport would be held up so he couldn't return to this country.

The upshot was, the statement said, that Rhodes was told, "You are working for us."

Rhodes was quoted as saying he gave specific answers to specific questions about what went on at the embassy, received the equivalent of $3,000 from the Russians, and was entertained at another "big party" which ended

Eastern Shore Plans To Fight Tax Increase

EASTON, Md., Feb. 14 (P)—Eastern Shore merchants and Chamber of Commerce members are being asked to appear at the General Assembly next Thursday to fight a proposed sales tax increase.

Charles P. Howard, president of the Easton-Talbot Chamber of Commerce, is seeking to rally the opposition.

Shore merchants in Maryland are said to feel they are losing business to Delaware and Virginia, which have no sales tax.

Gov. McKeldin has asked a sales tax rise from two to three per cent. He has asked a similar boost in the income tax.

AEC Sets Area Of Danger For Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (P)—The Atomic Energy Commission today set forth an area of about 300,000 square nautical miles which will be a danger zone in forthcoming nuclear tests in the Pacific.

Ships, aircraft and personnel were warned to stay clear of the area during the tests.

The area, roughly rectangular in shape is approximately the same size as the danger area used in the last Eniwetok test series in 1956, but its east and west boundaries have been shifted to the west by about 120 nautical miles.

A nautical mile is 6,000 feet, as compared to the 5,280 in a land mile.

The AEC said the danger area will be established effective April 5. It had been announced earlier that the test series will start sometime in April and continue into the summer.

The danger zone, AEC said, probably will be disestablished in August, but it is not possible now to fix an exact date. It said radiological surveys of the area will be made following the test series.

AEC and the Defense Department announced previously that the tests will be aimed at advancing development of weapons for defense against airborne and missile attack by a potential enemy.

Another purpose, they said, is to further the development of nuclear weapons with reduced fallout.

Explosion, Fire Keep Firemen Busy

LEONARDTOWN, Md., Feb. 14 (P)—An explosion and a fire, minutes apart, kept firemen in St. Marys County busy today.

The blast at the New Theater in Leonardtown shattered the theater windows and bulged out the sides of the cinderblock walls. A man in a room above the theater was knocked out of bed but was unhurt.

Firemen confined flames to the basement, where a furnace apparently blew up.

Minutes before the theater blast, fire at nearby California leveled a one-story frame trailer sales building, destroyed one house trailer and damaged another, State Police said. Damage was estimated at $16,000.

Airman On Moon Flight Showing Signs Of Fatigue

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 14 (P)—Airman Donald G. Farrell fought off five days of fatigue and loneliness this Valentine's Day as he went into the final 48 hours of a mythical trip to the moon and back.

If the 23-year-old native of the Bronx, N.Y., can win his fight he will emerge from an experimental sealed cabin at Randolph Air Force Base Sunday at 9:35 a.m. a successful and widely acclaimed space pioneer. He was placed in the make-believe space ship cabin last Sunday at 9:35 a.m.

He showed Thursday night, for the first time, indications of real fatigue, Lt. Col. George R. Steinkamp, chief of space medicine at Randolph, told reporters.

"We had been fairly sure this fatigue would show up about the end of the third day but Farrell held out for at least a day longer. However, he had a real sound sleep," Steinkamp said, and became much more alert. Steinkamp said there was no sign of physical or psychological breakdown from the fatigue indications.

"It does not change our optimism at all that he will finish out the seven days in good shape," he said. "It does change some of our ideas about the day and night cycle."

Steinkamp and other scientists conducting the much-publicized experiment on the expected effects of space travel on the human body and brain have Farrell observing a 14-hour sleeping and wakefulness cycle during which he sleeps 4½ hours and works two 4-hour periods.

"We are getting a good idea on what a normal person requires in sleep and rest to be proficient enough to operate a space ship," Steinkamp said.

Farrell cannot see or hear outside his 3x3-foot steel cubicle. All instructions and work problems are flashed to him on a closed circuit television screen and panel that simulates the controls of a space ship. The scientists observe him by a television camera.

There is one button on the control panel that Farrell could push at any time and get out.

"He has never, at any time, given any indication that he wants to get out or even that he will be glad to get out," Steinkamp said. "It has been amazing to us his cooperation and eagerness to continue the experiment."

Farrell, a 6-foot 185-pounder, is a single man with no admitted sweethearts. However, Randolph postal authorities said today that he has waiting for him 21 letters, including several obvious Valentines. He has one letter from Japan and another from Mexico.

Farrell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Farrell, get direct word at least twice a day on their son's condition.

Information officers make a call at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. daily to the San Antonio brokerage firm of Bache Co., and the information is relayed to the Wall Street brokerage firm where the youth's father works.

When Farrell comes out of the space chamber Sunday morning a limited number of photographers and news reel men will be allowed to record the scene. After a bath—which Farrell has not had since last Sunday—he will appear briefly at a press conference.

Persistence Pays For Mother Who Avenges Her Son

DETROIT, Feb. 14 (P)—A mother's persistence led yesterday to a jail sentence of 7½-15 years for the man who shot her son to death April 24.

Police of suburban Ecorse originally declined to bring charges against James Alvin Lackey, 48, in the shooting of Paul Randolph, 31. They said there was insufficient evidence to warrant a murder charge in the slaying, which climaxed an argument between the two men.

Mrs. Marie Randolph circulated petitions urging an investigation, and ultimately won support from a grand jury.

Lackey was charged with murder, but this later was reduced to manslaughter. He was convicted in Circuit Court.

He Was President And Commander

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (P)—The Reserve Officers Assn. said today the principal speaker at its luncheon meeting next Friday will be "Col. Harry S. Truman USA (Ret.) of Independence, Mo."

In a 200-word press release, the association reviewed the artillery colonel's career in World War I and subsequently, ending with the sentence:

"He served from 1945 to 1952 as president and commander in chief."

WOULD A FENCE HELP?

If we could build a fence around the world, what would it mean?

Would we live happily with one another? Would we respect our limitations and still feel free within our confines? Would we stop wars, and know eternal peace?

Probably not. Because, while you can fence in physical objects, the minds, the hearts, and the souls of man cannot be harnessed. Nor could we be forced to live in peace. Blessed peace can come only to us through practicing the love, the faith, the tolerance and the understanding that God, through His Church on earth, tries again and again to teach us.

With that in mind, remember World Day of Prayer this year. Determine not to build a fence around yourself, or around anyone else—but to pledge, instead, to enlarge your horizons and the horizons of the entire world through the common voice of prayer.

And what better place in which to make such a pledge than the Church itself?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Answer To Letter Reported

Discussing "Walden" by Henry David Thoreau, the Great Books Group of Cumberland AAUW pointed out that Thoreau lived two years by himself at Walden pond, building his own cabin, and raised his own food to study life, nature and himself. Mrs. A. J. Mirkin, chairman, reported she had read that Walden pond was to be made into a recreation center, so she wrote a letter protesting and addressed it to "whom it may concern." Walden Pond, Concord, Mass. She received a reply from a Mrs. Caleb Wheeler, a member of the Thoreau Society, who informed her that the Save Walden committee of the Thoreau Society has filed an injunction against this action and it is to go to the state legislature to put the pond in the care of the state of Massachusetts to preserve it. Mrs. Wheeler explained the society is composed of people from all over the country who are admirers of Thoreau. The president is Edwin Teal, author of "North With the Spring." She also wrote that she received letters from all over the world, who were exercised over the change.

A general discussion of the book was held and members gave their reactions to Thoreau's views on architecture, clothing, reading, solitude and nature. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Albert Eskin, Edwood Avenue, with Mrs. Paul Castelle assisting. The next meeting will be March 11, with William Wadsworth to be discussed. Others attending were Mrs. Morgan Smith, Mrs. A. J. Feigus, Mrs. William Durland, Mrs. Royce Hodges, Mrs. George Griffith, Mrs. Max Bastian, Mrs. Milton Beneman, Mrs. William Frailey, Mrs. Milton Granet, Mrs. W. A. VanOrmer, Mrs. Ralph Webster, Mrs. Amer Suter, Miss Dorothy Harlowe, Mrs. George Henderson and Mrs. Ton van Strien.

RECEIVES BOND—Because the Ted Mack Amateur Hour TV program is off the air, the Soroptimist Club of Cumberland offered Miss Marion Hamilton a $100 War Bond in place of the trip, she won in the amateur talent contest, held by the club in conjunction with its annual benefit ball last fall. Miss Hamilton agreed to accept the bond in lieu of her trip to New York for the audition, for as she said, "if and when the program would be on again, in all probability I might not be in a position to accept the audition because of indefinite time as to when this program would be scheduled." Miss Hamilton, 19 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Hamilton, Winchester Road, competed with 13 other contestants, winning with her solo of "One Kiss." A graduate of Allegany High School, class of 1956, she is employed in the office of the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, Pinto. While at Allegany she was active in dramatic and musical groups. Judges were H. C. Wickard, Mrs. Anne Moore Newnam, and James R. Hager. Mrs. Fay Stillwagon is shown presenting the bond to Miss Hamilton, while Mrs. Maxine Doak, Dance cochairman, watches.

Scripture was read by Mrs. Anna Streett. A panel discussion was held with Mrs. Gladys May, Mrs. Sidna Northcraft, Mrs. Millie Alderton, Mrs. Jane Fier, Mrs. Everett Yankee, and Mrs. Speir taking part. Mrs. Minke led in prayer. Mrs. Golden won a prize during the social hour. Hostesses were Mrs. Hartman and Mrs. Fier.

Mt. Savage Campus Queen And Princesses

Slight Drop Seen In W.Va. Unemployment

CHARLESTON, Feb. 14 (AP) — Initial claims for jobless benefits filed with Employment Security Department offices in the state dropped off in the week ended Feb. 8 for the third straight seven-day period.

Jobless payments during the week, however, totaled $797,184, up $321,580 — or 189.2 per cent — as compared with the same 1957 week. Unemployment compensation checks totaled $302,648 in the week ended Feb. 1.

The department's weekly statistical summary showed 5,466 new claims filed in the state in the seven days ended Feb. 8, as against 7,549 in the previous week. All claims, however, including the so-called continued ones and those filed by furloughed federal employees as well as by veterans under a 1952 readjustment act, stood at 27,131 last week.

That figure showed a drop also from the previous week's 31,919 but was 14,907 above the comparable figure a year ago.

Those who are receiving continued benefits are required to file only each two weeks, and the continued claim total on each seven-day statistical report reflects only filings in that category in that particular week.

Of the total claims, continuing and new, filed last week, the department said 21,896 were in the intrastate category. There were 5,748 of an interstate nature, filed by persons now in the state but who were laid off elsewhere.

Claims under the veterans' readjustment assistance act and the provisions covering federal workers currently unemployed numbered 1,435.

Employment Security Director Henry L. Ash said he was "encouraged" by the decline in initial claims. His department could provide no accurate figure as to the actual number of West Virginians unemployed, but one estimate was 45,000.

Other department statistics showed that 36,192 initial claims for unemployment compensation were filed in the state in January. Figures for the same month in other recent years included 17,530 in 1950; a total of 32,187 in 1954, and 15,539 in 1957.

Comparisons with such years as 1950 and 1954, however, might not be accurate, because of a change in federal law as of Jan. 1, 1956, making an employer of four or more persons eligible for coverage.

The previous law stipulated employers of eight or more persons.

W.Va. Freight Rates Increase

CHARLESTON, Feb. 14 (AP) — A new increase in intra-state freight rates effective March 1 was granted today for railroads operating in West Virginia by the Public Service Commission.

The boost will amount to 2 per cent, with certain exceptions, in the general area south of the Chesapeake & Ohio main line running from Huntington to White Sulphur Springs, and 7 per cent in the rest of the state.

The PSC order, which followed earlier action by the Interstate Commerce Commission for interstate business, provides for 14 per cent increases for lines north of the C & O and 9 per cent in the southern area below that main line.

A 7 per cent emergency raise of last June was granted by the commission when it followed an ICC action. That earlier increase was included in today's provision for lines north of the C & O.

Today's order also stipulated that intra-state carload rates on coal and coke in Kanawha district would be increased 2 per cent, but in no case by more than 15 cents per net ton.

Carload coal and coke rates in intra-state hauls other than those in the Kanawha district will be increased 9 per cent, but in no case by more than 15 cents per net ton.

Intra-state increases of 9 per cent, but no more than 15 cents per net ton, were provided in another exception in carload rates for such commercial aggregates as crushed stone, sand, gravel and furnace slag used for road building purposes.

Miss Pancake Entries

These two Frostburg young ladies complete the list of entries in today's Miss Pancake contest, to be held in conjunction with the Rotary Club sponsored Pancake Day at the American Legion Home, Frostburg. At the left is Miss Mary Ann Sacco, 129 Bowery Street, 18-year-old graduate of Beall High School, employed at Boetner and Boetner Insurance Agency. At the right is Florence Bahen, age 20, of 14 Washington Street, a graduate of Beall High School, Class of 1955. She is employed at the C&P Telephone Company. According to Peter Lucas, chairman of the affair, nine girls are entered in the contest and the Pancake Queen will be crowned at 8 p. m. as the finale of the day's activities. Girl Scouts from Troop No. 54 will assist in the affair today, which begins at 7 o'clock this morning. Proceeds are for the Frostburg Library fund.

Petersburg Hospital Obtains Staff Surgeon

PETERSBURG, W. Va. — Grant Memorial Hospital, the new institution at Petersburg, has obtained a staff surgeon.

William J. Anderson, hospital administrator, said the surgeon is Dr. Carl A. Liebig, a general surgeon in Cincinnati.

Dr. Liebig, a veteran of World War II and the Korean War, received his pre-medical training at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

He was graduated from the University of Cincinnati School of Medicine in June 1949 and took his general surgery training at the same university's surgery school.

He was licensed in August 1949 in Ohio to practice medicine. Dr. Liebig was in residence in general surgery at University of Cincinnati from 1952 to 1957.

Following his residency, he was certified as a general surgeon by the American Board of Surgery, Anderson noted.

In addition to general surgery, he is qualified to do chest, orthopedic, and gynecology surgery.

He has had a number of articles published in national medical journals. Dr. Liebig is married and the father of five children.

He is expected in Petersburg February 27.

The new 43-bed hospital, constructed from federal, county and subscribed funds, will open soon, Anderson said.

The most modern facilities have been provided in the institution that will serve a wide area in Grant, Hardy and Pendle counties.

The annual meeting of the Legion's women's auxiliary and the 40 and 8 Society will be held in conjunction with the July convention.

Mentz said the decision to hold the affair in Bluefield was reached in a conference of district commanders and other officials who will plan the meeting.

He said members of the Legion's State Executive Committee are scheduled to meet in Bluefield on March 28 to lay final plans for the convention.

Missionary From Iraq To Visit Area Churches

HYNDMAN, Pa. — A missionary from Iraq, Rev. J. C. Glessner, will preach Sunday, February 23 at churches in the Hyndman-Wellersburg Charge of the United Church of Christ, according to Rev. John B. Zinn, pastor.

Rev. Glessner and Mrs. Glessner served for 30 years as evangelistic missionaries of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, now United Church of Christ, in northern Iraq (the old Bible Land of Mesopotamia) where the chief religion is Mohammedanism.

Working with courage, tact, and a deep personal faith, they gathered together, in the city of Kirkuk, a small group for Bible study and prayer, and, in spite of wide-spread opposition to Christianity, saw the group grow into an active congregation.

Rev. Glessner also operated the Bible Wagon in connection with his extension work to the Nomadic tribes of the desert and farmers' hamlets. In this Bible Wagon he carried Scriptures in nine languages, audio-visual aids, grain and vegetable seeds, chickens, bees and tools used in digging village wells. As a part of his "five point" program of assisting the farmers in Iraq to get better breeds of poultry and livestock, one of Rev. Glessner's hobbies became chicken raising.

His famous "Glessner chickens" captured first and second prizes at the 1956 Kirkuk county fair.

Rev. Glessner is a graduate of Heidelberg College, Tiffin, Ohio, Lancaster Theological Seminary, and has done post-graduate work at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

Before leaving for the mission field he married Miss Helen Grether, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Alfred Grether then of Baltimore. Rev. Glessner is living in semi-retirement at the present time in Lancaster, Pa.

He will preach on February 23 at 9:30 a. m. at St. John's, Corvallis; Zion, Wellersburg, at the 11 a. m. service and at First Church, Hyndman, at the 7:30 p. m. Vesper Service at which time he will show slides on his work in Iraq.

Snow Removal Is Mandatory

FROSTBURG — William Sluss, police commissioner, has appealed to the citizens of the community to do something about the hazardous snow on their sidewalks. He stated that a city ordinance calls for sidewalks to be cleaned within 24 hours after the snow stops, but that due to the blizzard-like conditions for several days he hesitates to enforce the law, knowing the difficulty many persons would have removing a foot or two of ice which exists in some places.

However, Sluss said, it is the property owners' responsibility to make walking conditions safe on their sidewalks and prevent someone from falling. He suggested that at least walk-ways be cut through ice banks. Use plenty of salt or other snow melting chemicals, he added.

True Space Flight Getting Nearer

A prospect for an American first in space flight is the experimental X-15 plane, which is scheduled to be ready to fly in 1959 if all goes well. The X-15 is being designed to fly above the earth's atmosphere, at altitudes above 100 miles.

The X-15 is expected to be capable of speeds of 4,000 miles an hour or so—four times as fast as the earth's rotation and roughly five times the speed of sound.

If that is successfully done before the Russians get around to it, it will be an impressive American first. Eventually, after what may be a prolonged period of testing, the X-15 may be flown in an orbit around the earth. So it may be the first manned satellite to go aloft.

While there is no serious doubt that the plane can be built, the problem of reentry into the earth's atmosphere is still causing trouble. The X-15 is engineered to disperse heat caused by friction of the earth's atmosphere, but it is hard to predict how much heat may be produced by reentry when the plane's speed increases after it starts back down.

Getting up is easier. Plans call for carrying the X-15 like a baby kangaroo in the belly of a B-52 and releasing it at an altitude of 30,000 or 40,000 feet. At that level, propelled by rocket engines, it will be steered by conventional controls. For heights at which there isn't enough air for fins to press against, the steering will be done by discharging small jets of oxygen in its long nose and stubby wings.

But coming down the X-15 will face, in another element, some of the problems an amphibian plane has when it makes a high-speed landing on water. The top of the atmosphere, of course, is less well defined, but it figures to be "rough." Too sharp an entry will create problems of heat and pressure.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Whose Antennae?

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has been publishing an interesting series of articles about herself in "The Saturday Evening Post." They are, in many ways, a postscript to her autobiography.

The particular article to which I refer contains some criticism of John Foster Dulles, our Secretary of State, which requires examination. The matter comes up in relationship to Nehru of India, for whom Mrs. Roosevelt has considerable admiration. She says:

"... I cannot help but feel that Mr. Dulles fails to understand the feelings of many of the peoples with whom we must deal—that he lacks antennae with which to reach out and sense the attitudes of others at times when such attitudes may be of utmost importance in our struggle against Communism."

The question, of course, is whether the Secretary of State is a good-will ambassador or a finely-schooled strategist in international relations prepared by knowledge and experience to negotiate with other countries in the interests of the United States. That phrase, "in the interests of the United States," may not concern Mrs. Roosevelt too much because she is devoting the latter years of her life to the interests of the United Nations and there could be a conflict of interest.

It might be argued that a good negotiator is one who understands those with whom he negotiates, but it cannot be argued that he is any good if he is always conceding to the other side, always sacrificing the interests of his own nation. In the long history of sacrificing the United States from 1933 to 1948, the record is so one-sided that surely some country in this world ought to be grateful to the United States. After World War I, at any rate, Finland was grateful and paid its debts. After World War II, such countries as India have shown no gratitude whatsoever for this country. Their attitude might be summed up in the phrase, "What have you done for me lately?"

The reason Mrs. Roosevelt desires Secretary of State Dulles to have antennae which reach out and sense the attitudes of others, is that the aforesaid others "may be of utmost importance in our struggle against Communism." But these others, even after receiving such gracious aid at the hands of the Government of the United States, in most instances have been neutral between the United States and Soviet Russia. Nehru, for instance, is neutral.

What particular value is it to have a Secretary of State who gives up the taxpayers' earnings until it hurts and all we get for it is the kind of neutralism which Nehru produced in India and Sukarno produced in Indonesia?

Another generalization in this article that requires correction is the following:

"I remember when President Truman sent Gen. George C. Marshall to China during the critical days of the civil war, to attempt to persuade Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to inaugurate governmental reforms in an effort to unite all factions..."

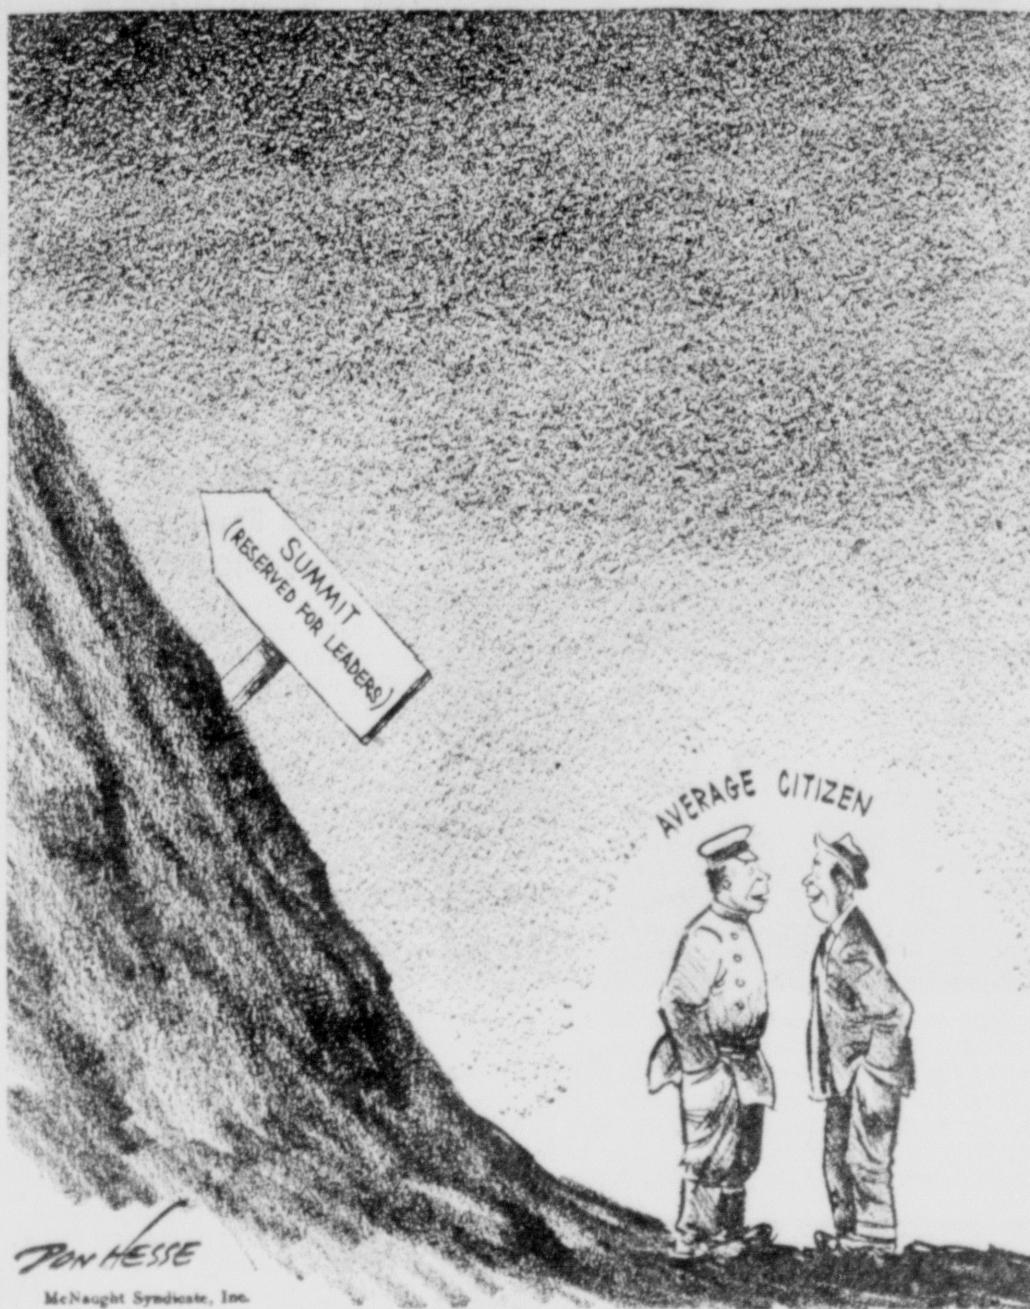

That was not General Marshall's task. General Marshall's task was to intervene in the civil war which was occurring in China between the government which was our ally and the Chinese Communists who were serving Soviet Russia. General Marshall's activities were such that the Chinese Communists were able to gain, after a long truce, a strategic position in Manchuria which resulted first in the conquest of China by Soviet Russia, one of the most serious defeats this country encountered in its history, and secondly, the Soviet direction of the Korean War which has proved so disastrous to us.

Mrs. Roosevelt is critical of Madame Chiang Kai-shek. She says:

"... I think that intellectually she understands what democracy means, but despite the fact that she went to college in this country she does not know how to live democracy."

Madame Chiang, Mei-ling Soong, came to the United States when she was a young child, lived with Bishop Ainsworth in Macon, Georgia, and then studied at Wellesley College. I have known Madame Chiang as girl and married woman nearly 40 years. She was a close friend of my first wife and there were times, when we were younger, when we saw each other daily. Madame Chiang may not confuse disorderly living with democracy, but she is as trained in the American concept of life as any girl can be who spends most of her childhood and youth in this country.

The 'Low Level' Talks The World Needs

Business Sure To Pick Up, Nobody Knows When

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON. — The most fascinating game among businessmen—and it's a game with high stakes — is guessing just when the "pickup" will come in the economic situation of the country.

There's a distinct difference between "recovery" and "pickup." It is conceded that, when the "upturn" comes, it could be slow and might precede by a good many months an actual state of "recovery."

What is meant, of course, is that the generalities which have been heard for the last several weeks are being challenged as the first month and a half of 1958 have already passed. The idea that business will recover in the second six months—a widely held view—presupposes a certain regularity about economic timetables. Business trends don't behave that way—as one factor after another has to arise in an unpredictable sequence until the whole picture has changed. Nobody can tell in advance when "confidence" will come back and when commitments will begin to be made for further expenditures. But when "confidence" has actually been restored, everyone will recognize its return.

The biggest fallacy of all is the widely spread argument—mostly by the politicians—that government itself can give business "a shot in the arm" or that a tax cut will be a panacea.

The Administration itself has had to deal with such predictions cautiously and ambiguously because it doesn't want to seem to be a killjoy or to be "inflexible" in its approach to possible solutions. But the truth is a tax cut is unlikely unless a deep depression ensues. Few here really believe in the concept. It could be a dangerous move, too, and destroy confidence in the dollar, especially if the federal deficit goes to $7 or $8 billion—which it could certainly do if, in addition to the expected drop in revenue yielding a deficit of $3 billion, there is a $3 or $4 billion loss in receipts due to tax reductions.

For at a time when the government needs revenues to meet big budgets, the idea of slashing off several billions in taxes and giving the money to consumers—who need it very little, judging by the way the consumer figures are standing up—is to ignore the basic weaknesses which prevail today in the capital-goods or heavy-goods industries.

The fatal error of the 1930s was pump priming" on the consumer side. It didn't result in buy more food but it will not the building of more plant or equipment. The existing capacity was enough at the time to take care of demand. Hence the money poured into "pump priming" didn't have much velocity or turnover. It didn't bring re-employment to the millions in the Bread lines from 1933 through 1939. The war in 1940 really brought the upward swing.

For it was only when the heavy-goods industries were giving public works and armament projects that fuller employment came back. It will do little good to the automobile workers of Detroit, so many of whom are out of work, if the "take home" pay of the other employees of the country is increased by only a couple of dollars a week through tax reduction. This could help much to buy automobiles even on the installment plan.

It is by adding substantial increases to the employment rolls generally that industries like steel and copper and other metals get the stimulus to recover. This can come only when a general prosperity has been achieved. Heavy goods involves a multiplicity of transactions and, unlike consumer increases, they permeate the whole economy.

Naturally the Democrats are having a field day talking about how bad things are in business, while the Republicans keep saying things will be better in the second six months of this year. Few appraisals take into account the psychological effects of the slow-moving factors that are behind the business recession. Certain bad situations must run their course, and they take time—but when the "pickup" is delayed, some businessmen foolishly start curtailing their own purchases or deferring them. This, in turn, puts a needless strain on the whole situation.

If businessmen could operate with a confidence that their products will be in good demand again within twelve months, they would be displaying real courage in the face of pessimistic forecasts. For the truth is that, with a vast population growing larger and larger each month and with America's plant and capacity still less than is essential to meet the requirements of an expanding economy, the recovery is inevitable. The question of exactly what month will see the "pickup" is less important than the fact that the "pickup" is certain.

Baering Down On The News

What's missing from the transplanted Brooklyn schedule is the Brooklyn fan.

There's no parking space for the sole of his foot. The Subway Series is over the hills and far away.

The Brooklyn fan only knew right from wrong if they were fields.

He could start a riot on miniature notice and threw a hard, high dornick. He didn't come there to praise Caesar.

He thought the basic facts were four. When they were loaded he approved of the slide rule.

The game was never over in Brooklyn until the bartender threw the last man out.

He loved those Bums when they won. He loved 'em when they lost. He loved those Bums.

That's a lot of O'Malley Marley about there being no parking space. The Brooklyn fan drove up on foot.

Avoiding The Staggers, Bends And The Chokes

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The bends develop in divers and sandhogs (tunnel workers) whenever they come to the surface too rapidly. This disorder is serious and represents one of the main hazards of such occupations.

The cause is well known. The sandhog, for example, works in compressed air many feet below the surface where the pressure is much greater than normal. Conditions are somewhat the same for divers who descend into the sea; the force of deep water has the same effect on the body as that of compressed air.

When the job is completed, these men cannot return to the surface unless pressure is reduced gradually. If this is not done, the nitrogen in the tissues and blood begins to bubble out in much the same way as does ginger ale when the cap is removed, releasing the pressure within the bottle. These nitrogen bubbles clog the small blood vessels and symptoms appear whenever this takes place.

Decompression sickness goes back to the days when men discovered sponges and oysters with pearls at the bottom of the sea. The condition was called the staggers when the individual became dizzy and weak a few minutes after getting out of the water. The chokes occurred when shortness of breath developed, and the bends if joints and muscles became painful.

The latter is the most common manifestation and takes place when bubbles accumulate in the joint spaces, bursae, or in muscle tissues. Involvement of the skin causes intense itching. When bubbles obstruct the blood supply to the brain, serious complications arise, including paralysis and convulsions. Death may ensue.

All of this can be avoided by reducing pressure gradually. Nitrogen is scattered thruout the entire body and is eliminated from the blood as it passes thru the lungs. The bends seldom occur when proper precautions are taken.

According to Dr. Samuel I. Koopstein and Dr. Bernard J. Schuman, there were only 44 instances during the building of the third tube of the Lincoln tunnel under the Hudson river. This is remarkable considering that the workers were subjected to high pressures and had to sit in the decompression chamber a total of 138,034 times.

There were no deaths among the 44 cases of compressed air illness. The majority had trivial symptoms limited mainly to the lower extremities.

Senator Morse Goes From Prayers To "Stolen Documents" In One Day

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Wayne Morse of Oregon is one of the most versatile, toughest scrappers in the Senate of the United States. One day last week he got up, shaved, ate no breakfast, appeared on the Dave Garroway TV show, then attended a Senate prayer breakfast, at which he preached a sermon, "Peace Through Disarmament."

Quoting from Matthew V, "Blessed are the peace makers"; Isaiah II and Micah IV, "Beat their swords into plowshares"; and from Matthew 26-52, "Then Jesus said unto him, 'Put up again thy sword into its place, for all they who take the sword shall perish with the sword,'" Morse told his Senate colleagues that Asia feared the United States as much as it feared Russia.

"We are not convincing the world that we are peaceful," Morse said.

"That was a remarkable sermon," commented Senator Dworshak of Idaho, "for one of the toughest fighters I know."

Finishing the prayer breakfast, the Senator from Oregon went back to his office. Waiting for him on the telephone was Speaker Sam Rayburn.

"I understand you have some stolen documents of ours," said the speaker, half-kidding.

"I don't know that the description 'stolen' is correct, but I do have some documents," replied Morse.

He referred to the fact that the previous midnight he had come to his door in pajamas and dressing gown to receive several cartons of confidential files from the House Subcommittee on Legislative Oversight, brought to him by the fired counsel, Dr. Bernard Schwartz.

"I will send the U. S. marshal for them," said the speaker.

"Under this administration, you better send the Army," replied Morse. The Speaker roared.

"We Will Investigate!"

They arranged that Morse would be at his apartment to deliver the documents at 12:30 noon. The apartment lobby when he arrived seemed full of photographers and congressmen, including Chairman Oren Harris of Arkansas and John Flynt of Georgia. They shook hands. Photographers asked Morse if he would carry out the documents so they could take a picture of him. "I couldn't carry them. They are too heavy."

Congressman Harris asked newsmen to retire so he could talk privately with the Senator from Oregon. He told Morse how the man who had first proposed the investigation was Speaker Rayburn and how he, Harris, had had a conference with the Speaker that very morning.

"The country is all stirred up," said the Congressman from Arkansas, who hitherto has dragged his feet against a probe, "but I am going to give them an investigation such as they have never seen before. I don't care if it's the executive branch of the government or the Congress. We are going to investigate. We are really going to bring out the facts."

"Yes," chimed in Flynt of Georgia. "We have eight ex-district attorneys, and we know how to investigate."

The two Congressmen didn't say so, but it was obvious they had in mind the fact that Morse had already announced he would introduce a resolution to push a special Senate investigation of influence peddling and flinching inside the independent agencies if the House committee fell down, as ex-counsel Schwartz has charged it is doing. Morse did not volunteer that he would with draw his in estigation. He said: "I am sorry Mrs. Morse isn't here. I can't even offer you some coffee. I hope I can receive you more sociably on other business in the future."

Harris was inquisitive as to the exact time Morse received the secret documents.

"About 11:45 p. m.," Morse replied.

Harris looked disappointed. He knew this was before, not after Dr. Schwartz had been serve with a subpoena to produce his documents. Therefore Schwartz could not be found in contempt of Congress.

"How could Schwartz handle all these papers?" Harris asked.

"He didn't. He didn't have anything in his hands. Two news papermen carried the documents for him."

Morse referred to the fact that Jack Anderson, my assistant, had advised bringing the documents to Senator Morse for safekeeping. The other newsmen was Clark Mollenhoff of the Des Moines Register-Tribune.

Backstage With The Diplomats

The new Venezuelan government has been cool in its first contacts with the American embassy... Russia has promised Red China to install six giant missile bases on the Chinese coast within easy firing range of Formosa. (We are still obligated to go to war in defense of Formosa in case of attack.)... It's now a crime in Russia for an artist to paint a portrait of any living Kremlin leader. This strange new decree is supposed to stop another Stalin from over glorifying himself. Khrushchev claims that if the red leader has more portraits of himself than another, it may lead to friction inside the Kremlin... the new British governor of Cyprus, Sir Hugh Foot, has been willing to bring Archbishop Makarios back to Cyprus. He is getting along fine with the Greek cypriots. But just when peace looked around the corner in Cyprus, riots started among the Turks.

Perspective

By Brother Barnabas

What is meaningful and what is unimportant is a matter for each individual to decide for himself.

Not that his decision will alter the facts, but it will show the caliber of his mind and the trend of his interests. The thermometer doesn't make the temperature; you know whether you are hot or cold.

Have you observed a man having a session with his morning paper? While waiting for his bacon and eggs he scans the pages. If he turns first to the market reports he is probably an investor.

If he turns to the sport pages he is probably a horseman, or a boxer, football or basketball fan.

The editorial page is too heavy for his digestion. If he has an infantile mind he wants to know about the adventures of the Dagwoods and Tracy. People are funny.

The other day a man up in years admitted he always reads the death notices, to see whether he had died and was not aware of it. Mark Twain said the news of his death was greatly exaggerated.

Younger people and expectant grandparents watch the birth announcements to see when the new satellite swings into orbit.

It's the same rule when an executive advertises for an assistant in his office. Applicants come. One is a typist but a poor speller and chews gum. Another is a fashion plate but no filing clerk. Going down the list and measuring their respective capacities and shortcomings he finally says "I'll take the blonde."

I asked a neighbor the other day what he thought of the new member of his staff. He replied, "It's too soon to know."

Time is a factor in assessing values. Life currents do not move in straight lines, they travel in circles. What is happening today has happened in history, and will be repeated in succeeding generations.

Sputniks are old stuff. In the Genesis account (11:4) we read about Babel. The know-it-alls said, "Come, let us build ourselves a city, and a tower with its top in the heavens, and let us make a name for ourselves." Read on and see how God baffled their scientific pride.

The writer of Ecclesiastes (1:9) had the true perspective. Said he: "What has been is what will be, and what has been done is what will be done; and there is nothing new under the sun."

The kind of life we are living today, with its display of passions, intrigues, extravagancies in morals and dress as seen in Hollywood, casinos, night clubs and TV shows is but a repetition of the old Roman days when Caesar fell under the spell of Cleopatra, and after his death Antony was snared by her voluptuous ways.

Gina Lollobrigida is as beautiful in her time as was the "serpent of the Nile." Everywhere she goes men want to carry the flag. But she professes in her latest picture that women are "Beautiful but Dangerous."

Gina has a dress for every occasion to set off her charms. Queen Elizabeth (1533-1603), the "Virgin Queen" of England was strikingly beautiful too and daffy about dresses. She was so fond of them she never was seen without one.

No wonder Sir Walter Raleigh spread his alpaca that she might cross a mudhole dry-shod!

That little act of gallantry has sparked more popular interest than any other event in Elizabeth's brilliant reign.

In delving among my archives I have found a sliver of wood attached to a parchment that should find its way into the Smithsonian Institution because of its timeliness in connection with pioneer events in our national history.

The inscription, signed by the then Mayor of Philadelphia and other celebrities, reads:

"We hereby certify that the fragment of wood hereto attached is part of the original lumber out of which said Independence Hall was built by Andrew Hamilton in the years 1732-1735; moreover, that the said fragment was part of the interior of said Independence Hall where the Declaration of Independence was signed and promulgated and heralded by the ringing of Liberty Bell; where George Washington, then a member of the Continental Congress from Virginia, received the Commission as Commander-in-Chief of the Continental Armies; where the flags surrendered by Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown, sent to Philadelphia by Washington, were laid at the feet of the Chevalier Girard, Minister from France; where Washington presided over the Constitutional Convention and where before, during and after the Revolution centered many other historical events which justly give to this structure its title 'The Home of American Liberty.'"

As president, Eisenhower is doing very well as a general, THANKS BROTHER BARNABAS

Fort Hill Girls Score 43rd Straight Over Valley, 57-34

Third Period Rally Decides; Nancy Belt Racks Up 27 Points

After being held on practically even terms during the first half, Fort Hill High School's girls outscored the opposition 19 to 7 in the third period and went on to chalk up their forty-third consecutive victory at the expense of Valley High School in a basketball game played yesterday at Lonaconing. The score was 57-34.

Valley's scrappy team held Fort Hill to an 11-9 score at the quarter and a 22-20 count at half-time, but Coach Henrietta Snyder's sextet put the game on ice in the third stanza and also outscored the home team 16-7 in the final quarter. The score was knotted at 9-9, 15-15, 18-18 and 20-20 in the first period. Barbara Joyce's goal broke the final tie and Fort Hill never was headed.

The victory was the seventh of the season for Fort Hill while the loss was the fifth in nine out of 10 for Valley.

Fort Hill's guards, namely, Eleanor Leatherman, Linda Fuller and Donna Harris turned in a brilliant defensive performance while Nancy Belt was the star on offense with 12 goals and 27 points. During the 19-point spurge in the third period Nancy slammed in six field goals. Barbara Joyce collected 20 points on eight fielders and 4-6 fouls.

Rita Kirkwood sparked the Valley attack with 22 points on nine field goals and four conversions in six attempts at the free throw line.

Fort Hill outscored Valley 25 to 14 from the field and 7 to 6 at the foul line.

The locals play Bruce here February 21 and windup their season at Hyndman February 28.

"Bobby" Cavanaugh Has Eighth Winner

Fort Hill High School won its sixth W.M.I. Basketball League championship last night after a six-year absence from the picture.

The Sentinels had previous winners in 1932, 1939, 1948, 1949 and 1951.

This is the eighth league championship team tutored by John J.

"Bobby" Cavanaugh. "Bobby" Cavanaugh in 30 years of coaching teams in Cumberland. His first two winners were at Pennsylvania Avenue High School in 1929 and 1935.

Cumberland schools have bagged the league crown 30 times and shared it once in 38 years. The 1957 race ended in a tie between Valley and Allegany and there was no playoff.

Allegany High has won 21 titles outright, shared the honors once and 19 of these winners were coached by Walter L. Bowers, who retired after the 1955 season following a coaching career of 29 years.

Barton and Beall captured three titles each and Central and LaSalle one apiece. Beall is the only one of these four schools still in the county circuit.

Pitt And Navy To Clash Today

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 14 (AP)—The two top scorers on Navy's basketball team will miss tomorrow's game with Pittsburgh and may be out for the rest of the season.

Naval Academy officials said Jim Bower and Jay Metzler are hospitalized. The two sophomores have been averaging 11 and 10 points per game, respectively.

Bower is on crutches with a severe ankle sprain suffered in last Wednesday's game with Georgetown. Metzler, Navy's tallest regular, a 6-6, is being treated for an infection.

The blow hit the Middies just before they must face three of their toughest opponents—Pitt, Duke and Notre Dame.

SPORTS GRILL by Pat Robinson International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (INS)—Jack Kramer, the boy promoter of the tennis world, is well on his way to getting his first million, if he hasn't already made it.

At 36, he can look back on several successful world tours he has made as player or promoter or both, and only one losing venture.

His games have grossed more than $2,000,000, and he casually agrees that a certain portion of this managed to find a resting spot in his own pockets despite the huge guarantees he has been forced to pay to lure amateur kings into the pro ranks.

Several of the Australians formerly in the Kramer troupe are now well set up in business in their native land, and not one of them has any financial worries.

Little Pancho Segura, the Ecuadorian, who has been a fine member of the supporting cast for several years, has done well enough, although Kramer admits he may have been underpaid.

Segura says this will be his final tour. He is going to settle down and teach tennis at which he probably can get more than the "measly little $25,000" he now gets playing.

When we asked Kramer about Segura's planned retirement from play, Jack grinned and said: "I guess that's right. This is Pancho's fifth farewell tour."

"Yes," he continued, "even $125,000 isn't bad pay for a few tennis matches. And don't forget Hoad is only 23."

Logart Agrees
To Fight Akins

Garden Gets Welter
Scrap On March 12

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (AP)—Isaac Logart of Cuba and Virgil Akins of St. Louis, agreed today to meet in the 12-round semifinal bout of the welterweight title elimination tournament at Madison Square Garden on Friday, March 21.

Promoter James D. Norris and Eddie Mafuz, Logart's manager, compromised their differences in a telephone talk. Each fighter will receive $20,000 and the winner will receive $25,000.

Logart was established as a 7-5 favorite. They met twice in 1955. Akins won the first bout and Logart won the return. Logart's record is 32-7-5. Akins' record is 45-17-1.

The 12-round bout will be broadcast and telecast coast to coast (NBC).

Piedmont Tops Southern High By Score 63-54

Lions Rack Up 13th
Straight In The PVC

Piedmont High School moved another step closer to an undefeated season in the Potomac Valley Conference by registering its 13th consecutive victory in that circuit last night at the expense of Southern High School of Oakland in a game played at Piedmont. The score was 63-54.

The win was the 15th in a row against all comers and gave Coach William "Huck" Miers' aggregation a season record of 17 wins and one defeat.

Dick and Joe Niland led the Piedmont offensive with 20 and 19 points. Shaffer, Southern center, was the game's high scorer with 26 markers on 10 goals and 6-10 at the foul line.

Stemple and Colow of Southern exited on fouls.

Franklin High's Panthers whipped Wardsville High's Warriors in a P.V.C. tilt at Franklin by the score of 64-55.

Don Rexrode and Cliff Glover headed the Franklin scoring with 17 tallies each while Murphy contributed 14. Billy Orndorff chucked in 20 points to pace the Warriors and Virgil Heishman hit for 15.

Logart Agrees
To Fight Akins

Garden Gets Welter
Scrap On March 12

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (AP)—Isaac Logart of Cuba and Virgil Akins of St. Louis, agreed today to meet in the 12-round semifinal bout of the welterweight title elimination tournament at Madison Square Garden on Friday, March 21.

Promoter James D. Norris and Eddie Mafuz, Logart's manager, compromised their differences in a telephone talk. Each fighter will receive $20,000 and the winner will receive $25,000.

Logart was established as a 7-5 favorite. They met twice in 1955. Akins won the first bout and Logart won the return. Logart's record is 32-7-5. Akins' record is 45-17-1.

The 12-round bout will be broadcast and telecast coast to coast (NBC).

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 14 (INS)—The first announced American movie to be requested by the Russians for showing in Russia on our new exchange cultural pact is Danny Kaye's "Merry Andrew."

This isn't such a random shot as it might first appear. In the first place, Danny is known to the top Russians through his work for the United Nations, particularly his tours into various countries where he has put on fund raising shows for native children. The Russian ambassadors in these countries have relayed back to headquarters the word about Danny's international activities. Also Russia is a member of the United Nations which sponsored Danny's tour.

Russians also go for comedy, which MGM is quick to tell you "Merry Andrew" is, in a great big way.

On the subject of Danny Kaye—Louis Armstrong, old "Satchmo," has been signed to play Danny's pal in "The Five Pennies" at Paramount. It's the first time the hot-lip trumpeter has been on the lot since he made "Here Comes the Groom" with Bing Crosby five years ago. You might say Louis is playing himself in "The Five Pennies" because he has always been a close friend of Red Nichols, on whose life the picture is based.

Another screen milestone in Satchmo's life was making "High Society" with Bing and Frank Sinatra which was also the final film of Princess Grace (Kelly) of Monaco.

It's nice to be so rich you work only when you're really sold on something, which is the enviable position of Joel McCrea. Well, Joel is so interested in "Mr. Lonesome" he's bought Howard Rigsby's offbeat western for production this summer.

His attention was brought to this story about a stranger who thinks he's alone in a ghost town until guns start popping, by Robert Stabler, no mean expert on westerns himself. He's the TV producer of the popular "Gunsmoke."

The first movie starrer ever produced is Joel's recently completed "Cattle Empire" for 20th, which I hear is a sleeper.

From Greg Peck, who is on location with "The Bravados" company in Morales, Mexico, comes this piece of pleasant news.

Says Greg, "We want you to know first that Veronique is expecting another baby this summer. We want a girl," says Greg, "but we expect a boy."

There are four boys in the Peck family—Veronique has one and Greg has three by his previous marriage to Greta Peck.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random.

A special screening of "The Cowboy" is being set up for Anna Kashfi and Marlon Brando. It's Anna's latest picture.

After Russ Tamblin finishes "High School Confidential" he'll go into the Army for a two-year hitch.

Edgar Bergen has been appointed general chairman of the ninth annual California International Garden and Flower Show to be held at Hollywood Park. He'll have the assistance of Frances, and his daughter Candy, as well as his wooden family.

Dining quietly in a corner at La Rue were Henry Ginsberg and his estranged wife, Mildred. It was nice to see them together again.

Edie and Bill Goetz will be grandparents again. Their daughter, Judy (Mrs. Richard Shepherd), has her second date with the stork. This will make four grandchildren for the Goetzes.

Ziva Rodann, Israeli actress from the famed Habima Theatre in Tel Aviv, is being tested by Hal Wallis. She plays a small role in "King Creole."

Finland's first and only gift to Hollywood, Taina Elg, is being pressured to return to Helsinki to star in a picture. One of Finland's top producers is on his way here to talk with her.

If Dorothy Shay's mother, Mrs. Francis Sims, isn't able to travel in June, Dorothy will go to Jacksonville, Florida, for her marriage to public relations man Dick Loomis.

That's all today. See you Monday.

Action On Health Rules Held Up By County Board

LaSalle Group Sets Meeting Next Week

A general meeting of the Friends of LaSalle will be held Wednesday of next week at 8:30 p. m. on the first floor of the Knights of Columbus Home.

Joseph Divico, general chairman of the organization, said all persons interested in the project are invited to attend Wednesday's session.

The organization was formed several weeks ago in order to raise money to send the LaSalle High School basketball team to the Eastern States Catholic Invitational Tournament in Newport, R. I., next month.

The LaSalle team, undefeated in 17 games this year, has accepted an invitation to the tournament to be held in the New England state on March 26, 27, 28 and 29.

In order to raise money for the trip, the Friends of LaSalle will sponsor a spaghetti supper on Sunday, March 9, from 4 p. m. until 9 p. m. in the basement of St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Tickets for the supper are available from members of the organization. Divico has asked the members to make ticket returns at Wednesday's meeting.

Workers will also be assigned for various projects to be conducted at the supper. Persons interested in working on the night of the supper are urged to attend this meeting, Divico said.

Divico also announced yesterday that Michael B. Clark and James E. Clark have been appointed co-chairmen of the advance publicity committee for the supper, and also handle the placing of posters in various stores in the area.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

The clever hostess of any dinner party plans conversation as carefully as she does menus!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Table Talk At Dinner Parties

The little dinner party for four or more is one of the most delightful forms of entertaining. Its success depends on putting the right people together, serving the right food and providing an atmosphere in which personalities can sparkle and display their most entrancing facets.

Yet... even with these three ingredients, many an evening fails because the conversationalist just never seems to get rolling. Where is the error?

One hostess whom I most admire says, "I plan topics of conversation as carefully as I plan my menu and table decorations."

"So right you are," I commented. "But how do you go about planning these subjects?"

"That depends on the interests and nature of my guests," she continued. "Naturally, the subject must be one in which both men and women are interested."

"For example?" I questioned.

"Oh... How would you live if you could do as you pleased?" is one that inevitably leads to some interesting reactions. In fact, the whole problem of how

Area Phone Rates To Go Up Sunday

Free Calling Areas Will Be Expanded In Western Maryland

Wider range calling for telephone users in Allegany and Garrett counties will be into effect Sunday under revised schedules filed with the Public Service Commission yesterday by the C & P Telephone Company.

The free calling arrangements are the same as called for in the company's proposal of last August, when it made its sixth request for rate hikes since World War II.

Additions to the present free calling areas are as follows:

- From Cumberland — Lonaconing, McCoole and Westernport.
- Lonaconing — Cumberland, Frostburg and Westernport.
- Frostburg — Lonaconing.
- Westernport — Cumberland and Lonaconing.
- McCoole — Cumberland.
- Accident, Bittering, Friendsville and Kitzmiller — Oakland.
- Oakland — Accident, Bittering, Friendsville and Kitzmiller.

Lists Procedure
The only change in calling procedure, at present, are that Cumberland subscribers will not have to dial 301 to reach Lonaconing. They should dial HO 3 and the number, while Westernport customers desiring to call Cumberland or Lonaconing should dial "7" and give the number to the Piedmont operator.

All other calls, in all other exchanges, should be placed or dialed in the present manner, according to Robert G. Garner, local manager.

In compliance with the PSC order limiting rate adjustments in the state to $6,048,900 in gross annual revenue, the company filed amended tariffs.

From this boost in gross income, the company expects to net $2,806,727 after taxes, enough to give the C & P a 6.25 per cent return on its investment in Maryland.

File New Rates

The new basic rates for Western Maryland telephone customers are as follows:

Cumberland and Westernport—Residence, one party, $6.35; two party, $5.45; four party, $4.80 and rural, $5.05. Business rates are

County Fruit Growers Plan LaVale Meet

Allegany County fruit growers will hold their annual winter meeting on Thursday, February 20, at the LaVale Fire Hall.

Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent, said yesterday that a number of authorities on fruit and berry growing have indicated they will give talks during the all-day program which begins at 9:30 a. m. with a sound and color movie, "The World At Your Feet."

At 10 a. m. nutrition deficiencies of apples and peaches will be discussed by Dr. B. L. Rogers, horticulturist, University of Maryland Field Laboratory, Hancock.

The 1958 spray calendar for apples and peaches will be explained by Dr. L. O. Weaver, plant pathologist of the University of Maryland at 10:30 a. m. One hour later Dr. Rogers will discuss the pre-harvest apple spray to prevent fruit drop. At noon those in attendance will be lunch guests of the Cumberland Fair Association.

The afternoon program will begin at 1 o'clock with a discussion of the spraying of raspberries for insect and disease control by Dr. Weaver. At 1:20 p. m. weed control in raspberries and strawberries will be discussed by A. F. Vierheller, horticulturist, of the University of Maryland.

Marketing containers for apples will be outlined at 1:40 p. m. by H. H. Hoecker, marketing specialist of the University. Concluding the afternoon's program will be the panel discussion of apple storage. Moderator will be Theodore Stegmaier, Christie Road. Members of the panel will be Clifford Gordon of Paw Paw and Earle Wright of Hancock.

Those planning to attend are asked to have their reservations in Steger's office at the Court House by Monday.

Forestry Officials Confer Here

Top officials of the State Department of Forest and Parks were in Cumberland this week to attend the annual fire training meeting of employees of District 1 which embraces Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties. The prevention of costly forest fires and progress made in coping with the situation were discussed during the meeting at the Court House. Four officials are shown above examining a commandment which the department is trying to instill into the public, "Thou Shalt Not Destroy Thy Forests." Left to right looking over the safety poster are Peter vander Lugt, safety engineer of the department; A. R. Bond, assistant state forester; H. C. Buckingham, state forester, and William H. Johnson, district forester, who was host to the meeting. A good fire-prevention tip is "Remember — Only You Can Prevent Forest Fires."

Forest Management Gains In Year Cited

The private forest management and reforestation accomplishments in the four westernmost counties of Maryland from July 1, 1956 to June 30, 1957, were outlined here Thursday by A. R. Bond, assistant state forester, who attended the annual district fire training meeting held at the Court House.

Some 39 foresters including the 35 classified employees of the State Department of Forests and Parks in this district heard the report by Mr. Bond, who said there were 10 woodland examinations in Allegany County involving 520 acres of land.

Three woodland examinations on 204 acres were made in Garrett County, 11 on 500 acres in Frederick County and 12 on 843 acres in Washington County. Seven woodland areas in Allegany County involving 121 acres were marked for harvesting with a total of 212,392 board feet valued at $2,905.

In Garrett County two woodland areas involving 155 acres were marked for harvesting with 231,490 board feet valued at $10,500. Frederick County figures show five woodland markings with 83 acres and 239,933 board feet valued at $5,923. Washington County had nine markings involving 182 acres with 442,620 board feet valued at $7,835.

Reforestation figures outlined by Mr. Bond show the following: planting sites examined, Allegany, 51 involving 207.9 acres; Garrett, 75 involving 497 acres; Frederick, 72 examinations on 185.6 acres and Washington, 127 examinations on 484.6 acres. Some 43 plantations involving 195.3 acres were established in Allegany County; 170 plantations on 540 in Garrett; 61 on 153.6 in Frederick and 46 on 741.7 in Washington County.

William H. Johnson, district forester, host to the meeting, said those in attendance also got a report on the annual fire destruction of the district which has a protected area of 716,000 acres of land.

In 1957 the district had only 61 forest fires that burned 230.31 acres or .032 per cent of the area's forest land. Mr. Johnson said that due to the increased personnel and added mechanization the better equipped fire fighting forces have become more efficient.

A chart on annual burn has been maintained by the forester's office over a period of years. It was noted that in 1927, and 1935 fires were held to a low number due to wet weather conditions.

Also during the 30s the CCC camp personnel in this district kept forest fire damage down. In the past few years very few forest fires with damaging results have occurred in the district due to better mechanization and added personnel.

17-Year-Old Boy Sent To Training School

A 17-year-old Corriganville youth was sent to Rosewood Training School for Boys Thursday following a hearing before Magistrate Fred H. Anderson in Juvenile Court.

The lad, who the court said felt he was unwanted by his parents, had been placed under foster care but the custodial order was rescinded by request of the foster parents.

Testimony indicated the boy was unmanageable and had a record of considerable truancy from school.

Legion To Hold Dance

Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, will hold an old timers Valentine dance tonight at the home, with music by Clara Fisher, beginning at 9 p. m.

Bill To Lower Voting Age Is Reintroduced

Hughes Proposal Is Backed By Driscoll

A bill to lower the voting age in Maryland from 21 to 18 was introduced yesterday by Del. George R. Hughes, minority leader of the House of Delegates.

Joining as co-sponsors of the bill which Del. Hughes introduced unsuccessfully in last year's session of the General Assembly were Del. Fred B. Driscoll, Allegany County Republican, and Dels. Simpkins (D-Somerset), Berkson (R-Washington), Lee (D-Montgomery), Hughes (D-Caroline), and Sickles (D-Prince Georges).

The bill is a proposed constitutional amendment, subject to approval of the voters if enacted by the General Assembly.

A bill to give the Tidewater Fisheries Commission full power to regulate oystering in the Potomac River was introduced.

Could Allow Dredging
Under its terms the commission could even open the river to dredging, which has been banned in the Potomac since the 1930s.

The measure was sponsored by the three delegates from Somerset County, where watermen have been trying for years to get the river reopened to dredge boats.

Southern Maryland interests have successfully resisted the annual legislative attempts to reopen it.

The bill sponsored by Dels. Simpkins, Quinn and Riggan would disregard all oyster laws now on the books with regard to the Potomac and leave it up to the TFC to make its own rules and regulations.

TFC Chairman John P. Taves of Somerset County has said he favors opening the river to sailboat dredging but not dredging by power boats.

The oyster bill was in a batch of new legislation introduced before the Legislature adjourned for the weekend.

Whiskey Tax Sought
The other new measures would: Levy a tax of 10 cents per bottle on whiskey, raising an estimated 8 million dollars a year in new revenue.

Lower the voting age in Maryland from 21 to 18.

Restrict legislation at 30-day sessions of the General Assembly to the budget and tax program.

Prohibit the erection of service stations or restaurants along any controlled access highway except the proposed Northeast Expressway.

Specify that women over 62 would not have to be actively seeking work to collect unemployment compensation benefits (the present age limit is 65 for both men and women).

Permit the Court of Appeals to just issue a decision, instead of writing a full opinion, in cases where it deems a full opinion unnecessary.

Lower the size limit of sea trout and weakfish, hard heads or croakers from 10 to 9 inches.

Mrs. Sylvia Roeder Reported 'Satisfactory'
The condition of Mrs. Sylvia M. Roeder, wife of C. Paul Roeder, 813 Ashland Avenue, was reported "satisfactory" last night by attaches at Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Roeder underwent surgery Thursday after she wounded herself in the left side with a 12-gauge shotgun at her home. Police said the charge from the weapon missed being fatal when the angle of the body shifted as she reached to press the trigger.

Showalter Is Found Guilty Of Manslaughter

Sentencing Set Monday Morning

William Showalter, 40, of Clearville, Pa., who went on trial this week in Bedford County Circuit Court for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Hilda Showalter on November 14, yesterday afternoon was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter.

The petit jury, composed of seven men and five women, deliberated about three hours before bringing in its verdict.

In the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania such a verdict carries a prison term of from six to 12 years. Judge Richard C. Snyder, who was on the bench, deferred sentencing Showalter until Monday at 10 a. m. in Bedford County Circuit Court.

The murder trial, the first such trial in the county for the past 14 years, lasted four days. The jury got the case at 3:20 p. m. yesterday and reached their verdict just two minutes before 6 p. m.

Upon learning of the verdict, Showalter showed no outward emotion and was remanded to the county jail to await his sentence.

Judge Snyder told the jurors, "The verdict you reached was a proper one. I would have made the same decision had it been up to me to decide."

The prosecuting attorney, William Van Horn Jr., and defense attorneys Charles M. Kootz and William H. Snyder summed up their cases yesterday morning.

Early yesterday afternoon Judge Snyder delivered the charge to the jury. Mrs. Showalter died as a result of a stab wound inflicted by her husband, who later attempted to end his life and burned their home down, police said.

County Native, Prison Guard, Fatally Stabbed

Michael J. Hughes Jr., a 40-year-old native of Allegany County, was slain Thursday night at the Lorton (Va.) Federal Reformatory near Washington, where he has worked as a guard for the past four years.

Mr. Hughes, who was born at Ocean, was found with his throat cut and with stab wounds in his face and neck when the prisoners returned from their evening meal Thursday. He was dead before arrival at the Alexandria, Va., hospital.

Four FBI agents and Lorton Reformatory officials yesterday questioned about 70 inmates of Dormitory 13 where Mr. Hughes was viciously knifed Thursday.

Donald C. Clemmers, director of the District of Columbia Department of Corrections, termed the death of the Allegany County native a "real tragedy."

"Mr. Hughes was well liked by everyone and the inmates here are as shocked and upset by this as I am," Mr. Clemmers asserted yesterday.

The slain guard was described as a quiet and persevering officer and not the "bully type." It was presumed that when he entered the dormitory he came upon someone doing something wrong and they jumped him. Like all guards at the reformatory he was unarmed.

Mr. Hughes had been employed at the Amelle plant of Celanese for about 18 years before accepting employment as a reformatory guard four years ago. His father, who still lives at Ocean, survives. Other survivors are the slain man's wife, five children, the oldest 14 years of age; one brother and two sisters.

Accidental Ruling Ends Death Probe

Burns Fatal To Young Girl

County authorities yesterday ruled the death of a six-year-old Water Street girl who was burned in a fire at her home was accidental after investigating the circumstances.

Francena L. Smith, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Smith, 29 Water Street, died at 8:45 a. m. January 25 in Memorial Hospital about four hours after she was admitted with severe burns about her face and most of her body.

Authorities at that time were told the child's clothing accidentally caught fire. Firemen were called to the house nearly four hours after the girl was admitted to the hospital and reported a mattress in a bedroom had caught fire.

The accidental death verdict was made after the family fully explained the circumstances to local authorities.

The victim apparently had gotten out of bed early in the morning while the remainder of the family, including three other children were asleep. She put on a slip which later caught fire at a gas stove in the room.

When the girl ran screaming to the bedroom of her mother and sisters, the young nine-year-old brother smothered the fire with a blanket. The parents, awakened by the children, then rushed the little girl to the hospital, authorities were told.

However, the flames from the girl's clothing set fire to a mattress which smoldered. Mr. Smith attempted to put out the mattress fire with water and presumed it was extinguished, police said he told them.

After the parents returned home from the hospital the family again went to bed. But, the mattress continued to smolder, Mr. Smith said.

A passing motorist, noticing the smoke in the house, awakened the family once more about 7:30 a. m. When they were unable to put out the blaze in the mattress firemen were called to the scene.

Meanwhile, the victim of the original fire four hours earlier, died in the hospital.

Landis To Be Returned Here

Allegany County authorities will leave for Florida this week-end to bring back a local man who was indicted for embezzlement by the October 1957 Grand Jury.

The charge against George W. Landis was not docketed, according to James S. Getty, assistant state's attorney, since he was not in custody when the jury returned the indictment.

The State's Attorney's office received a telegram Thursday from the sheriff of Duval County at Jacksonville that the local man was being held and had waived extradition.

Mr. Getty said Edwin M. Lilya, county investigator, and Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis will leave today or tomorrow to bring Landis back here.

Mr. Lilya said Landis, former manager of Rose Hill Cemetery here, has been charged with embezzlement of funds from the vestry of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, which operates the cemetery, between 1950 and 1956.

Lodge Meeting Set

Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employees, Cumberland Lodge 1028, will meet tomorrow at 1 p. m. in the Labor Temple, 12 South Liberty Street. All members are being urged to attend.

Plan To Close Pimlico Aired By Senators

All Tracks Equal Walsh Declares

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 14 — Arguments that old Pimlico be run so far downhill it ought to be abandoned was called a "cock and bull story" today by Sen. DiDomenico (D-Balto 2nd).

The renewed effort to transfer Pimlico's 40 days of horse racing also evoked from Sen. Malkus (D-Dorchester) a protest about "high pressured lobbying" being exerted.

The two finance committees of the Legislature heard more than three hours of arguments for the second straight year on the transfer of racing.

Pimlico, supported by D. Eldred Rinehart, chairman of the State Racing Commission, repeated claims that without room to expand the track cannot be reconstructed into a "first class plant." Paul Bailey, former State senator from St. Mary's County, presented Pimlico's case.

He said the State would profit by increased revenues if the Legislature would approve moving "a country operation out of the city." Arranged against the move were DiDomenico, Charles Evans of a "Save Pimlico Committee," and Bowie, the state's other major track.

Cite Tax Take

They disputed that the State might collect more racing taxes by the centralization. They cited figures showing that the State has collected more taxes from Pimlico than either of the other two tracks for the past 10 years.

"The figures don't show that Pimlico is dead," said Evans. "It's an unjustified move."

DiDomenico put out because he was limited to eight minutes at the end of the hearing, declared the "evidence makes out a case to keep Pimlico" instead of closing the 88-year-old track.

Pimlico's plea is based partly on failure to win rezoning of 25 acres of ground at one time slated to be used for new stables.

Di Domenico belittled this as having deterred Pimlico from improving because it built a new clubhouse and had plans for a new grandstand after the rezoning was rejected.

Sen. Turnbull (D-Balto County), chairman of the Finance Committee, said he planned to bring the bill up for a vote Tuesday. A similar bill failed to move out of his committee last year and the Legislative Council subsequently vetoed it that it should not be considered at this session. It was put in, however, by Sen. Dempsey (D-Balto 3rd).

Bowie is protesting the move on the grounds that 80 days of racing at Laurel will give that track twice as much improvement money.

"Laurel soon would be able to outstrip Bowie and make it a second class track by comparison," said William C. Walsh, former attorney general. "It's been the history of racing in Maryland that all tracks are equal."

Ralph Powers, another lawyer representing Bowie, repeated

Md. Newspapers Urged To Print Unbiased News

BALTIMORE, Feb. 14 — The president of the Associated Press tonight urged Maryland newspapers to dedicate themselves to the AP's one basic product—straight, unbiased news.

Benjamin M. McKelway, editor of the Washington Star, expressed the desire at the combined convention of the Chesapeake Association of the Associated Press and the Maryland Press Association.

All daily newspapers in Maryland are members of the Associated Press, a non-profit cooperative and the largest news agency in the world.

"As members of the Associated Press," he said, "you are its only proprietors. And the Associated Press will remain successful, as the world's largest news service, only so long as its members conduct themselves as proprietors—watchful, constructively critical, jealous of the quality of its, and their own, product."

"For as members of the Associated Press, you are not mere consumers. As proprietors, you must contribute to the perfection of what your agent, the Associated Press, produces."
